Terra Luna Heli and Vip Experience 6 days / 5 nights

REGULAR DEPARTURES: EVERY TUESDAY YEAR-ROUND

VIP program that includes helicopter support to save time and enjoy unique experiences, both in summer (heli trekking, heli ice trekking, heli fishing, heli kayaking, heli climbing) and in winter (heli skiing, heli snowshoeing). All this combined with visits to some more traditional and unmissable places like Patagonia Jet. Definitely THE PROGRAM to get to know the region like no one else!

The program includes 3 hours of helicopter travel for activities tailored to the wishes of the passengers, and these can be arranged at the group's discretion (to be determined at the lodge). The example provided is simply a recommendation. In winter, a heli skiing or heli snowshoeing program may be suitable.

DAY 1: BALMACEDA-TERRA LUNA

Reception at Balmaceda Airport. Transfer by vehicle to Puerto Tranquilo to visit the "Marble Chapel," splendid caverns carved by the waves. Lunch en route. Arrival in Puerto Guadal. Terra Luna Lodge welcomes us with welcome drinks and a delicious dinner (L, D).

DAY 2: TERRA LUNA

Helicopter flight over the Torres del Avellano (1 hour), a beautiful group of granite towers that resemble the Torres del Paine. Return to the lodge. Trekking to the Maqui River waterfalls or to Los Fosiles. Lodge (B, L, D).

Cerro Hyades Trek 7 days / 6 nights

PRIVATE DEPARTURES (MINIMUM 2 PAX) PROGRAM OPERATES ONLY FROM NOVEMBER TO MARCH.

Objective: A circular trekking circuit similar in concept to the Vuelta del Paine, but with more magnificent landscapes and a more mountainous atmosphere. A comprehensive program with all kinds of activities included (boating, trekking, basic climbing, kayaking, ice walking, etc.). Exceptional views of the ice field's hills and foothills, without having to climb them.

DAY 1: BALMACEDA/COYHAIQUE (IN) - TERRA LUNA

We'll be picked up at the Balmaceda or Coyhaique airport. We'll travel along the Carretera Austral toward Puerto Guadal. Along the way, we'll visit Villa Cerro Castillo, a magnificent plain dominated by the mountain of the same name. We'll have lunch at a typical Patagonian restaurant. We continue to Puerto Tranquilo for a boat trip (weather permitting) to the "Marble Chapel," a splendid cavern shaped by the waves. We arrive in Puerto Guadal. Terra Luna Lodge welcomes us with welcome drinks and a delicious dinner. (L, D)

DAY 2: TERRA LUNA-LAKE PLOMO-HUEMUL LAGOON

Transfer to Lake Bertrand and take a jetboat ride across Lake Plomo. We travel up the Soler and Cacho Rivers. We then ascend the northern valley to the imposing Soler Glacier. A glacial moraine hides a beautiful lagoon, a refuge for several huemuls (Andean eagles). We camp at the foot of the great walls. Unparalleled views of the nearby glaciers and peaks. Camp (B, L, D)

DAY 3: HUEMUL LAGOON-SOLER LAGOON-PASS CAMP

We cross Soler Lagoon by zodiac and begin a trek along the glacier moraine. The progress is difficult and uncomfortable, but after 3-4 hours we reach the foot of the wall that begins the climb to Piola Pass.

A 600m vertical drop separates us from the pass. We cross Piola Pass, from where an extraordinary view opens up over Leones Lake, Mount San Valentin (4058m), and all the glaciers that fall from the Northern Ice Field, forming a fabulous interplay of blues and whites that contrast with the almost unreal turquoise color of Leones Lake. Camp below the pass. Camp. (B, L, D)

DAY 4: PASO CAMP-LEONES LAKE

Descent to the edge of Leones Lake where the boat to the glacier awaits. Ice walk and crossing of Leones Lake to reach camp. (B, L, D)

Additional Information

LOGISTICS:

This trek requires good physical condition and an adventurous spirit, as the weather can become adverse during the hikes, and you will have to continue to reach the different campsites.

This trek has the logistical support of Terra Luna, which is responsible for maintaining food stores at strategic points to limit the weight of each participant. However, each participant must be able to carry between 10 and 15 kilos, as for safety reasons, we must have the equipment and supplies to set up an improvised camp.

Program available under optimal conditions from December to March (inclusive) and under more extreme conditions (possible snow) during the months of November and April.

NOTE: Transfers to and from Terra Luna for private programs may occasionally be shared, as is the case with regular services, due to logistical reasons.

Recommended Flights:

FLIGHT IN: Arriving in Balmaceda before 12:00 p.m. (noon).

FLIGHT OUT: Departing Balmaceda from 3:00 p.m. onwards.

Program Includes:

- Hotels
- Camping facilities (except sleeping bags and personal supplies)
- Meals as per codes (B, L, D)
- Transportation to and from BBA and to the starting and ending point of the trek
- 1 hour helicopter for logistical support
- Bilingual guide(s) + assistant(s)
- Park entrance fees
- Boats and kayaks
- Free use of the hot tub and sauna at the lodge.

Program Does Not Include:

San Lorenzo 11 days / 10 nights

PRIVATE TOURS

Mount San Lorenzo (3,706 m) is the second highest peak in Patagonia. Its beautiful summit, covered in mushrooms of snow and ice, dominates the Argentine pampas and the Chilean valleys with a challenging pride. This expedition is relatively psychologically and technically demanding and requires good physical fitness. San Lorenzo is a capricious mountain and can be dangerous for those unfamiliar with it. However, for experienced mountaineers who desire logistical support from specialists, it is an accessible mountain of indescribable beauty. AZIMUT 360 was the first agency to operate this mountain commercially, and we invite you to participate in one of the most beautiful expeditions possible in Patagonia.

DAY 1: COIHAIQUE/BALMACEDA - TERRA LUNA

Reception at Balmaceda Airport. Transfer to General Carrera Lake. Excursion to the Marble Chapel (if possible). Arrival in Puerto Guadal. Overnight at Terra Luna Lodge. (L, D)

DAY 2: TERRA LUNA - COCHRANE - SAN LORENZO RANGE

Transfer to Río Tranquilo and trekking to San Lorenzo Range. Pack mules. Camp. (B, L, D)

DAY 2: SAN LORENZO RANGE - SAN LORENZO BASE

Trekking to San Lorenzo Base Camp, whose captivating walls. Camp. (D,A,C)

San Valentin 20 days / 19 nights

PRIVATE DEPARTURES - EXPEDITION SEASON: DECEMBER / JANUARY / FEBRUARY / MARCH

San Valentin (4,058 m) is the highest peak in Patagonia. Its location in the middle of the Northern Ice Field makes this site one of the most attractive spots and guarantees a unique experience. This expedition is the most challenging in our current catalog and is reserved especially for advanced mountaineers. The mental aspect is most important on this type of expedition because weather conditions can require spending several days trapped inside a tent. We offer snowshoe and sled support. AZIMUT 360 has opened a new (very interesting) itinerary to climb San Valentin, departing from Lake Leones instead of Laguna San Rafael (historical itinerary). A specialist in this mountain, AZIMUT 360 / TERRA LUNA is the only company in Chile that has offered and successfully conducted commercial expeditions on this journey. Located in Puerto Guadal, opposite Mount San Valentin, our Terra Luna lodge and its staff remain in constant contact via VHF radio with expedition members. We also have our own helicopter, offering comprehensive support in both logistics (cargo transport) and security for each of our expeditions. This itinerary is fully recorded on our GPS, and AZIMUT 360 is the only agency offering first-class logistical support to ensure the success of this expedition.

DAY 1: COIHAIQUE/BALMACEDA - TERRA LUNA

Reception at Balmaceda Airport. Transfer to General Carrera Lake. Excursion to the Marble Chapel (if possible). Arrival in Puerto Guadal. Overnight at Terra Luna Lodge. (L, D)

DAY 2: TERRA LUNA

Important:

- This program is indicative and may be modified at any time during the expedition.
- In the event of an early return to Puerto Guadal, additional nights or services at the lodge will be canceled directly by the passengers. However, the food included during the expedition, camping equipment, and guides are available to them (free of charge).

Logistical Aspects:

- Porters mentioned on days 3, 4, 5, 17, and 18. These porters are very few in number (there are no Sherpas in Chile) and help share the load, but in no case do they relieve passengers from carrying loads at all times. Therefore, these porters only prevent multiple trips. Depending on the case, they may be responsible for carrying some of the equipment before the group's arrival.
- The expedition includes a mountain guide for each group of 3 people (with AZIMUT 360 and other possible external guides).
- Passengers must be in excellent physical condition and accustomed to carrying heavy loads.

Pioneers in Chilean Patagonia

Patagonia Helitours is a visionary tourism proposal that allows visitors to discover the pristine beauty of Chilean Patagonia from the air and enjoy exclusive activities in its most stunning corners.

Our operations base is located in Puerto Guadal, at TERRA LUNA lodge (www.terraluna.cl). We have a certified helipad (SHLU) on the shores of Lake General Carrera, from where we offer various transfers, scenic flights, and heli-activities that provide unique experiences.

We operate an R66 helicopter for up to 4 passengers and an Airbus AS350 B2 for up to 5 passengers. Both are equipped with a basket and external hook for aerial work

Patagonia Jet

PATAGONIA JET was born in 2002 from the desire of Philippe Reuter, a French mountaineer living in Chile, to make the wild and beautiful places he discovered during his sporting career accessible to “ordinary” people. Making the unnavigable navigable was his 25-year struggle, and today the jet boat tour on the river is ranked in the TOP 3 worldwide.

Over time, the team has grown but maintains this passion for the places visited and the discipline of jet boating, which is undoubtedly a fundamental part of the memories and experiences left behind by the excursions.

Our base of operations is located at the TERRA LUNA lodge (www.terraluna.cl) in Puerto Guadal, from where you can literally connect your room to a glacier in just a couple of hours.
